Luxury Van Cover

Thank you for purchasing the Just Kampers luxury van cover, here are a few do's and don'ts to help you look after your van cover:

First make sure your van is dry and clean before putting the cover over your van. If the van is dirty, this may cause abrasion on the van with the cover rubbing against the dirt. If the van is wet, this will build up condensation within the van and take longer to dry.

If your van is parked on grass, then your van is subjected to more condensation than it would be parked on hard ground (tarmac). So if possible try to park your van on hard ground for the winter.

When putting the cover over the van beware of the wing mirrors, aerial and exhaust tailpipe and any other objects that could rip the cover.

Condensation will always build up on your van no matter how breathable the material is; this may be confused with the cover leaking. As the van cover is breathable, the van will dry out. However we would recommend, once a month to remove the cover and let some air into the van.

Its always a good idea to turn the van over at least once a month and let it run for 20 minutes, do this while the cover is off. Never start the vehicle with the cover on, the exhaust will burn through the cover, also the van could fill up with toxic fumes.

Check the two straps underneath the van are always tight at least once a fortnight. They will loosen if wind gets underneath the van.
