

The Mi01 Sentry Tracking Transmitter is a watertight after-theft recovery system with worldwide coverage. After installation and activation, the extremely compact level transmitter indicates where it is located once a day. After theft, the frequency of position transmission is increased and the transmitter can be traced accurately to the metre.

HOW DOES THE MI01 SENTRY WORK?

The Mi01 Sentry uses GSM, GPS and even has a fallback RF Signal. Programmed to send its location once every 24 hours the Sentry is nearly impossible to detect. Users can change the location frequency via our Mi App, and in the event of theft the unit will update to stream its location until its recovered.

THATCHAM ACCREDITED

Thatchams strict and rigorous assessments, evaluating performance, manufacture, and service, give you complete peace of mind. Knowing your Moving Intelligence system is reliable, and provides your vehicle with the protection it needs.

SIMPLICITY AND USER-FRIENDLY

The compact size of the Mi01 Sentry can be installed out of sight virtually anywhere in any vehicle or asset. With the built-in internal battery, the Sentry has no effect on the existing electrics, and this system operates entirely wirelessly.

“WHERE’S MY CAMPERVAN?”

WE KNOW! >>>>

Secure your Campervan!

Protecting a campervan against theft is important. campervans are a favorite target for criminals, often because of inadequate security. Although people use steering and wheel locks this doesn't stop theft.

It is therefore recommended by insurance companies to protect your bike with an after-theft recovery system..

The Mi01 Sentry tracker is a retrieval system with worldwide coverage. After a theft, the position from our tracking system will be sent to our call centre so that our 24/7 call centre team can locate your campervan.
